

- David Livingston, '01, has been appointed county counsel by the El Dorado County Board of Supervisors. He has served the board for 14 years in a legal capacity, most recently as interim county counsel.
- Courtney McNicholas, '87, was named to the Top 100 Women Lawyers in California list by the Daily Journal. A partner at McNicholas & McNicholas in Los Angeles, she specializes in harassment, discrimination and retaliation suits involving law enforcement and firefighters.
- Karen N. Mills, '83, has been named director of legal services at the California Farm Bureau Federation. She previously served as senior attorney for energy policy at the Hanford-based organization.
- Christina Morkner Brown, '08, has been appointed deputy secretary for law enforcement and general counsel at the California Environmental Protection. She previously served as a deputy attorney general at the state Department of Justice.
- Mhare Mouradian, '03, has been selected to Super Lawyers in Business Litigation.
- Jennifer Neill, '96, has been appointed assistant secretary for legal affairs and chief counsel at the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation. She previously served as chief counsel at the Board of Parole Hearings.
- Greg Paul, '04, has joined the Santa Rosa-based firm of Anderson Ziegler. He previously practiced with Morgan & Paul in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania where he represented both plaintiffs and defendants in a variety of general litigation.
- Bryn Peterson, '93 was elected as a member of the Washington State Bar Associations Board of Governors.
- Henry Sotelo, '87, was appointed to serve as hearing officer for Reno where he will adjudicate appeals regarding parking infractions, license permits and other city codes. He is the director of paralegal education and a teacher at Truckee Meadows Community College.
- Dana Sabraw, '85, received the outstanding jurist award at the San Diego County Bar Association's annual awards ceremony. The federal judge was honored for his decision to issue a nationwide injunction against the administration's policy of separating illegal immigrant families who cross the U.S.-Mexico border.
- Paul Starkey, '83, has been appointed deputy director of labor relations at the California Department of Human Resources by Governor Gavin Newsom. He formerly served as assistant chief counsel in the agency's legal division.

April 2019

- Ariel Aldrich, '11, became a Workers' Compensation Judge (Administrative Law Judge) at the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board in Sacramento.
- Jan Aune, '04, obtained a Federal Jury Verdict of $1.5M for federal whistleblower retaliation. The jury trial took place in U.S. District Court, Central District of California and lasted 7 days.
- Jodi Bohr, '04, has been named chair of Gallagher & Kennedy's professional women's group. She is a shareholder at Arizona's sixth-largest law firm who practices employment and labor law in Phoenix.
- Eric Corfili, '78, has rejoined Eversheds Sutherland after a year at Pillsbury Winthrop. He is senior counsel in the firm's state and local tax practice at the Sacramento office.

Our website uses cookies to enhance user experience. Clicking any link on this page constitutes consent. Learn more >

I Agree